CLAIM THEY WERE DOUBLE CROSSING FRIENDS RATHER THAN ADMIT THEY ARE BEATEN

Rather than admit defeat at the hands of the Crump element in the county court, the Monteverde crowd Monday protested that they were not really defeated but that they had only double-crossed Dave Wells, Mrs. Tony Casarotto and Mr. Miller, bookkeeper in the office of the chairman of the county court. They found themselves eaten to a frazzle Monday and instead of having the courage to confess it, claimed that they had been for Jerome Richards all along. Judge Ed Richards, of the First Criminal court, son of Jerome Richards, knows something of the contemptible efforts of the Monteverde machine and if anyone believes that Monteverde or any of his crowd has ever been for Jerome Richards they have but to ask him. The following two stories, one printed Sunday morning and the other Monday morning, are the best evidence of how the Monteverde faction came out.

(Commercial Appeal, Sunday, April 6.)
Despite persistent rumors that the city administration is grooming a dark horse, with a better than two-minute speed, as opposition Monday to Jerome Richards for the position of poll tax collector, Acting Mayor Charles W. Miller would make no comment Saturday.

"Wait and see" was Miller's cryptic answer. The old political machine is backing Richards. Although there is plenty of time left in which to name a poll tax collector, it is the belief of the administration that Richards' name will be put before the county court Monday, when that august body meets for the first session of the April term.

The old gang is bending every effort to line up the members of the court on Richards' side. This may be only a tale, but it is told that one of them even went so far as to tell a certain magistrate of wonderful improvements which would be made on the roads in his district if—(The gravel gag back in Shelby politics sounds like the old days.)

But the administration forces seem confident that the names of those who are not in Nashville. Acting Mayor Miller and Commissioner Alfred D. Mason are smiling and appear not one whit worried. Probably this has given credit to the rumor regarding a "dark horse" which will trot fast enough to take the post and the lead from Richards from the start. But they are keeping name and pedigree well under cover—and smiling.

(Commercial Appeal, Monday, April 7.)
Although the poll tax collector heretofore has been elected at the June meeting of the court, it has been decided for some reason that the court shall act on this matter today.

There is little doubt that Jerome Richards will be named, according to a statement made yesterday by a citizen close to the administration, who said:

"All this talk about the city administration putting out a candidate against Richards is baseless. I happen to know that Mayor Monteverde and Jerome Richards are lifelong friends. I have talked to other members of the administration and if they have any opposition to Mr. Richards it was not expressed."

Asked as to the mention of Dave Wells' name in connection with the office some time ago, the informant replied:

"There was some talk of Wells entering the race, but it was solely because of the friendship for Wells on the part of two of the commissioners, and not because of any objection to Richards. The matter was dropped when it was found that Wells was not eligible."

Rumors as to other candidates were rumors only, and had no foundation on fact. I know whereof I speak when I say that Jerome Richards is in every way acceptable to the city administration—not only this, but he would receive the active support of the administration if they were not at present engaged in a fight of far more importance to the city of Memphis than that of electing a poll tax collector."

PETE SAILOR HELD ON LIQUOR VIOLATION CHARGE

Pete Sailor, brother of Joe Sailor, former town marshal of Birmingham, was arrested Sunday morning at 10 o'clock near his home in Birmingham on a charge of violating the liquor law. He was placed in jail but later was released on bond.

Deputies Palmer, Reese, Goswick and Bradley found Sailor in the rear of his home. A negro was nearby and on seeing the deputies, dropped a sack containing 12 half pints of whiskey and fled. Sailor was arrested and charged with owning the liquor.

Coinciding with the arrest of Sailor, Joe Walker and Troy Brown, negroes, alleged to have entered Salore's home recently and robbed him of several hundred dollars and intimidated both Salore and his wife, were scheduled to be tried in Second criminal court Monday. Walker will be tried first. He is represented by Clarence Friedman, attorney.

EXPECT LARGE CROWD TO HEAR CORP. HOUSE

A large crowd is expected to be present Monday night at the First Baptist church (Chelsea), where Corp. Ed House, the Memphis negro, who was decorated by the French government for bravery, will greet the negro citizens of Memphis and relate his experiences in the great world war. The particular incident leading up to the decoration of Corp. House was the capturing of 18 German prisoners after slaying their officers.

Attorney Wm. H. Foote will speak on the subject, "The Dawn of a New Era and the Problems That Confront the American Negro." Lieut. J. D. Carr, surgeon with overseas forces, will also speak. The program is under the direction of Sergt. Allen R. Griggs, Jr. Rev. Wm. H. Young is the pastor of the church. Dr. B. E. Jones will preside.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Now you can simply ask at any drug store for "Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You cannot see a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

SLASHES THROAT WITH RAZOR IN EFFORT TO DIE

Standing in front of the mirror on the mantel in her room Monday morning, Mrs. Christina Crump, 23 years old, 1026 Park street, calmly drew a razor across her throat, in an effort to kill herself, according to the report at the General Hospital. Before she had inflicted a fatal wound, Mrs. Crump fainted, supposedly from the sight of the blood.

Members of the household heard her fall and alarmed the neighbors. Calls for physicians brought aid and Mrs. Crump was rushed to the General Hospital in an ambulance. She had caused but a trivial wound and after receiving attention, was taken back to her home. Mrs. Crump, who is the wife of James Crump, refused to tell the nurses and attendants at the hospital why she had wished to die.

FINDS 72 QUARTS.

One-half dozen cases of genuine single-pure whiskey were found in an abandoned house on a farm near Otis Crenshaw, district deputy sheriff. Crenshaw hid out on the premises all night Sunday hoping the owner of the liquor would come around, but the owner must have been watching as he never appeared. Crenshaw, however, has the liquor and hopes later to report the name of the owner.

Right Dress

No detail of the costume is so important as the footwear, which is usually first to be seen; and the whole effect is quickly judged by the appearance of the Shoes and Hosiery.

For Dress-Up Week, therefore, somewhat more than usual care should be taken to be assured that New Shoes and New Hosiery complete the effect. Memphians need little urging to dress right. This special week is selected in order that each should concentrate attention on the subject and perfect every detail in due time.
